

Court Packet

You have been invited to spend a day at the royal court!

It's one thing to read about what the nobility did to amuse themselves, but it's more fun to try it yourself!

What went on in the castles and palaces? Most of the time, rulers were concerned with the day-to-day job of running their lands. It took a lot to keep land productive and prosperous. But when it came time to relax and have fun, a ruling noble would host a lavish celebration that might include tournaments among the knights, games, hunting, lots of foods and music and dancing.

Enjoy the pastimes of the medieval nobility!

Learn how to greet nobility and royalty.

Play some of the medieval games that the nobles enjoyed.

Plan your own medieval feast menu.

Enjoy the music that turned every medieval feast into a dance party!

