

Persona Packet

Welcome to the exciting world of historical re-enactment and re-creation.

Around the world, thousands of people just like you learn about history by actually living it!

What's the difference between re-enactment and re-creation?

Re-enactment groups aim for complete authenticity. Members often portray a persona which is based on an actual historical person. Re-creation groups try to strike a balance between authenticity and personal creativity. Members portray a fictitious character which is based on ongoing research into the time period

Today, you'll have the fun of creating your own medieval persona!

You'll choose a name, a home country, and a time period. As you learn more about the Middle Ages, you'll get a better idea of what daily life for your persona might have been like!
